If you live near a forest, the chances of spotting deer are quite high.

However, many people consider them a nuisance- they claim that the deer ruin their yards by stomping on plants and eating their flowers and grass.

But, deer are cute and loving animals and if you've seen the movie Bambi, they're beyond adorable and could we really get 'mad' at them for something?

In fact, we should rejoice whenever we see these visitors in our yards! This woman did exactly that when she spotted them in her living room…

Woman Finds 3 Deer in House during a Storm

After accidentally living her back door open during a storm, this woman encountered 3 deer cuddling in her living room.

This woman shared the story on social media through the Imgur community. While preparing her home for a terrible storm that was coming, she left the backdoor open.

When the storm hit, she went out for a minute to check if the orphaned and white-tailed baby deer that she looks after were nearby. However, they were nowhere to be found.

When she came back into the house, she saw that the deer were closer than she thought.

The three little cuties were inside the house without her noticing. They came in through the backdoor to protect themselves.

Animals Can Sense Storms

Animals are known to have a 6th sense when it comes to weather, particularly storms or natural disasters.

They can sense changes in air pressure and pick up frequencies of sounds that we can’t.

This is why we often see dogs, horses, birds, and elephants behaving oddly just before some weather catastrophe happens.

And, these little deer definitely felt that a storm was going down and they looked for a safe place.

She left them in for the night because the storm outside was nasty. She even took some cute photos with the baby deer. We can definitely see their gratitude on the photos!

We agree 1000 percent with the woman who saved them- 'how could one say no to a face like this?'

No matter if you're an animal lover or not, you can't stay indifferent to these innocent creatures!
