If you're like one of those people who has dreamed of driving a Lamborghini, but didn't have the hundreds of thousands of dollars necessary to buy this legendary sports car, this go-kart is the perfect suit for you.

However, you can't take it on the highway as it's designed for the track only as it's purely electric. This new electric go-kart was made as a partnership between Lamborghini and Segway-Ninebot.

The construction is similar to an earlier Segway Ninebot design, but this time, it got some pretty serious upgrades in performance.

The New Go Kart for Grownups

This new go-kart can reach a speed of up to 25 mph thanks to the detachable self-balancing scooter which is mounted in the back.

The back tires are replaced with drifting-friendly tires. The front has higher traction rubber for improved and safer turns.

The kart has a true Ackermann steering wheel, functional head lights, and a rear wing. According to Segway-Ninebot, it adds stunning performance aerodynamic and betters the handling.

It also has 4 air ducts to ensure ram-air cooling to the 432 Wh battery.

The battery is potent enough to power the go-kart for up to 62 laps around a 400-meter track or around 25 km.

It has 4 different speed limits which can be accessed through an app on your phone. This is useful in case you let your older kids take on the wheel.

Adults up to 220 lb of weight can also enjoy this impressive go-kart. We really love the built-in Bluetooth speakers which you can use for your own music or to listen to preprogrammed engine sounds.

If you want to buy it, you should spare around $1450. Since it's not legal for street driving, you can still fold it up and put it in the trunk of your car and haul it off to the track.
