They got married in 1939 during the Great Depression. Believe it or not, they only spent $7 on the hotel room for their honeymoon.

John is also the oldest living former UT football player. In the last 84 years, he's attended at least one Longhorn game every year.

Despite being at a quite advanced age, the centenarians are very healthy and John even exercises daily.

10 years ago, they moved to the Longhorn Village-a community for seniors associated with the alumni group of the University of Texas.

According to John, the secret recipe for a long life and a happy marriage is to live in moderation and to be cordial to your spouse.
